

OUR HOUSE LEADS

In Ready Made CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS. Why? Because we make the people's needs our study. We sell garments that wear well, fit correctly and are in the latest style. We are here for the public benefit and incidentally to make a living. Our prices are correct—for lowness unsurpassed. Our Hot Weather Goods are going fast.

Remember our WORLD'S FAIR OFFER, as follows: WORLD'S FAIR OFFER NO. 1. To every purchaser of $50 worth of Goods at Retail we will give a Railroad Ticket and Admission Ticket to the World's Fair. WORLD'S FAIR OFFER NO. 2. To every purchaser of $10 or over we will give one Admission Ticket to the World's Fair Grounds.

We have 100 Dozen Men's and Boys' Work Shirts, slightly damaged by water (from a burst pipe), which will go for 25 and 50c each. These shirts are cut full yokes, felled seams, and worth double the money.

RACE CLOTHING MFG CO. 129-135 North Water Street.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 29,

O. M. ANSTEAD'S

We place on sale the Handsomest Lines of PRETTY WASH GOODS this season. Our prices at 5c, 6 1/2c, 10c, 12 1/2 and 15c, will interest every lady wishing an inexpensive dress.

This week we shall reduce our lines of Spring Jackets, Capes, Etc., by Cutting the Price Nearly One-Half.

Our 350 Jackets and Capes go at $2.00 " 400 Jackets and Capes go at 2.50 " 500 Jackets and Capes go at 3.25 " 650 Jackets and Capes go at 4.00 " 850 Jackets and Capes go at 5.00

We shall offer some Desirable Bargains in CHINA SILKS, to close several lines. Be sure and see them before you buy.

This is the Bargain Week in our CARPET AND CURTAIN DEPARTMENT. See our lines sure. We will save you money.

O. M. Anstead, 211 NORTH WATER ST., DECATUR, ILL.

AN AWFUL ACCIDENT

Nine Persons Killed and Over a Hundred Injured

WHILE RETURNING FROM THE RACES

By the Derailment of a Heavily Loaded Excursion Train in a Tunnel on the Long Island Railroad—List of the Killed and Injured.

New York, June 21.—A train on the Long Island railroad, upon which there were about 3,000 persons returning from the Sheepshead Bay races, was derailed last evening in a tunnel a short distance from Parkville, L. I. Two persons were killed outright, and about 100 were injured, many so seriously that they will not recover. These killed outright at the time of the accident were: Patrick Daly, a court officer of the third district court, New York city. H. C. Pringle, whose residence, according to a card in his pocket, is 36 West Seventeenth street, New York. Quinby, Utica, N. Y.; right leg cut off, died on way to hospital. Unknown man, about 30 years old, dark mustache and dark hair, dressed in dark clothes. Died in Seney hospital. J. B. McConnel, Fritz Johnson and Jos. Simley also died last night at the Seney hospital.

The following were removed to the City hospital, Brooklyn, and died soon afterward: Henry Spinks, marshal at Jefferson Market police court, 75 Morton street, New York. Robert Cutley, a policeman, 425 West Forty-first street, New York. INJURED: Henry Maynard, New York; leg injured. Nicholas Foster, 305 West Ninth street, New York; leg fractured. J. Johnson, 547 West Seventeenth street, leg and body injured. Andrew Sherman, 105 Harrison street, New York; internally injured. J. B. Childs, Elizabeth, N. J.; face cut and leg fractured. E. C. Hills, Times building; hand and arm injured. B. J. McKenna, Central park policeman; compound fracture of ankle. Frank J. Pink, 301 West street, New York; face cut and leg injured. Richard Flynn, 155 Cherry street, New York; internal injuries. Wm. Herring, Auburn, N. Y.; leg injured. James Bradford, Paterson, N. J.; internal injuries. Patrick Gibbons, Hanson street, Brooklyn; body injured. Charles Herring, New York city; serious internal injuries. Henry Reuch, 73 Third avenue, New York; internal injuries. J. C. McGonigle, Philadelphia, cut and bruised on leg and arm. M. Phillips, Colonnade Hill, New York; leg fractured. Fred Schomburg, Third avenue, New York; body injured. Addicks, Bank State of New York; internal injuries. W. D. Ford, Jersey City; legs and body bruised and cut. J. C. Foster, West Forty-fourth street; injured on body and face. Unknown man, aged 45, black hair and whiskers; at Seney hospital, unconscious, suffering from shock and internal injuries. The condition of Andrew Bartolomeo is serious, and the physicians of the Seney hospital, to which he was taken, do not think he will recover. Many of the injured were taken to New York hospitals or to their homes.

The accident happened upon what is known as the Bay Ridge division of the Manhattan railway, about half a mile from the town of Parkville, which is the junction of the road running to Coney Island, Manhattan Beach and Sheepshead Bay. The Bay Ridge division, after leaving Parkville, passes under viaduct of the Coney Island boulevard. The ill-fated train reached this point at about 6 o'clock. Crowded aboard were men, women and children, many of whom were spending the day witnessing the Suburban races. The train consisted of six coaches. The front and rear cars were closed. The others were open. Every seat was taken, and men stood in the aisles of the closed cars and shoulder to shoulder upon the platforms running along the sides of the open cars. It was a good-natured crowd. The train was going at full speed when it suddenly had a jolt and jerk and the expressions of pleasure were instantly turned to fear and dismay. The engine and first two cars slid then the other cars of the train bumping and reeling along to the very mouth of the tunnel.

Then the engine and the two cars that remained on the track broke loose from the cars, and were carried by their own speed clear through the tunnel and twenty-five feet beyond. The other part of the train pulled the second half way through the tunnel. People jumped from the train and fell upon the embankment to be bruised and cut by the cars. Others were carried along upon the train, their bodies rubbed and bruised upon the rocks of the tunnel. The faces of the men became panic stricken, and trampled them and the children under their feet in their flight for safety. When the train stopped the cooler heads immediately began to render assistance to the wounded who lay along the track. Policemen who had arrived immediately sent orders to Brooklyn hospitals for ambulances. In the meantime the wounded had been gathered up and stretched out on the grass on the embankment. The physicians arrived and attended to the wounded as best they could. One hundred persons found this green plot a temporary hospital.

The cause of the accident and who was to blame for it are matters which are yet to be investigated. The train was, without doubt, derailed by an open switch. It stood there open after the accident in mute evidence. Whether it had been opened by the switchman or whether long use had rendered it unsafe and it was jolted open by the passage of the train is not definitely known.

A SHARP REBUKE Administered to British Counsel Before the Behring Sea Tribunal

PARIS, June 21.—Upon the resumption of the sitting of the Behring Sea tribunal yesterday, Sir Richard Webster, of counsel for Great Britain, continued his argument and started a legal case against Great Britain. The proceedings were temporarily enlivened by the intervention of Baron De Courcy, president of the tribunal, who took exception to a statement made by Sir Richard. He legal on the fact that Great Britain, who took the opportunity to instruct Sir Richard that the tribunal knew its duties and powers, and could not allow him to make statements which would lead the tribunal to believe that Great Britain would not abide by the decision of the tribunal. In the course of his remarks Sir Richard maintained that both Great Britain and the United States were under moral obligations to sanction by legislation whatever recommendations made to the seal fisheries the tribunal might adopt, but, he added, this obligation was not legally binding. When Sir Richard had made this statement Baron De Courcy interrupted him before he could proceed further, and in a sharp tone said to him: "I cannot allow you to say that before us. We are conducting a serious business. Neither country a party to this arbitration can break its word and reject the award made by this tribunal. In the case of Sir Richard was a little taken back by the sharpness of the president's tone, and hastened to explain that a moral obligation was as binding as a legal one in conducting his address. Sir Richard said it must be left to each party to the arbitration to take measures to enforce the resolutions enacted by the tribunal.

Chief Justice Mason then gracefully thanked the jurors in appreciation of their work and faithful service, and reminded them that they were to be taken with them which may have seemed irksome at the time were solely in the interest of justice, a fact which they undoubtedly realized now. The jury was then adjourned until Monday next. When the regular criminal session will be opened.

The closing scenes in the trial were in direct contrast with those which had preceded them. Thereafter all had been decorous and in keeping with the dignity of the most dignified court in the country. The jury, after the verdict had been returned, a cheer went up which might have been heard half a mile away through the open windows, and there was no attempt to conceal the fact that the verdict was returned with a heavy heart.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

INNOCENT AND FREE

The Intended Victim of the Fall River Police

TRIUMPHANTLY VINDICATED BY LAW.

Wildly Pathetic Scenes in the Court Room—Eyes Blinded with Tears and Voices Choked with Emotion Greet the Happy Gilt.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 21.—It was 12:05 when Mr. Knowlton closed one of the most powerful speeches ever delivered before a jury holding in their hands the fate of a prisoner, with an eloquent appeal to the jury to decide as their conscience should direct. The court then took a recess until 1:45. At 1:45 the court resumed its session, and the defendant was given an opportunity to speak. He simply said: "I am innocent, but I will leave my case in your hands and with your counsel." Judge Devereux then charged the jury. He told them to disregard the previous hearings, and defined the different degrees of murder. He stated the presumption of innocence, which was increased by the fact that the defendant did not testify. Every fact proved must be reasonably consistent with guilt. The government did not have to show that they were not guilty, but must prove defendant committed it. The jury must consider as to the effect of defendant's conduct and statements. They were not to be influenced by sympathy, but were to apply to it a reasonable judgment. They might convict if satisfied that it was done by another party, but that defendant was present during and in a sharp tone said to him: "I cannot allow you to say that before us. We are conducting a serious business. Neither country a party to this arbitration can break its word and reject the award made by this tribunal. In the case of Sir Richard was a little taken back by the sharpness of the president's tone, and hastened to explain that a moral obligation was as binding as a legal one in conducting his address. Sir Richard said it must be left to each party to the arbitration to take measures to enforce the resolutions enacted by the tribunal.

Chief Justice Mason then gracefully thanked the jurors in appreciation of their work and faithful service, and reminded them that they were to be taken with them which may have seemed irksome at the time were solely in the interest of justice, a fact which they undoubtedly realized now. The jury was then adjourned until Monday next. When the regular criminal session will be opened.

The closing scenes in the trial were in direct contrast with those which had preceded them. Thereafter all had been decorous and in keeping with the dignity of the most dignified court in the country. The jury, after the verdict had been returned, a cheer went up which might have been heard half a mile away through the open windows, and there was no attempt to conceal the fact that the verdict was returned with a heavy heart.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

Mr. Borden's head went down upon the rail of the witness stand, and he was weeping and sobbing in his hands. The jury looked straight ahead at the bare walls. Sheriff Wright was powerless to wield the gavel which lay ready for his use, and not once during the trial did he utter a word. He waited fully a minute before he made the slightest sign of having heard it. He did not see the people rising in their seats and waving their handkerchiefs in unison. The jury, however, were completely blinded for the time.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Several forest fires have occurred within a few miles of Berlin.

The People's bank of Minneapolis, Minn., has suspended payment.

The Kansas state banking commission has ordered the Bank of Pittsburg closed.

Mrs. Cleveland and Baby Ruth left Washington yesterday for Buzzard's Bay, Mass.

The Spanish curule weighed anchor at Montreal last night for a direct run to Chicago.

Robert A. Cochran, of Illinois, has been appointed confidential clerk to the commission of Indian affairs.

Two deaths from sunstroke were reported in London Monday, and intense heat prevailed throughout the United Kingdom.

The Lin County Jail bank of Albany, Ore., capital $100,000, has failed, and Bank Examiner Jennings has been placed in charge.

There will be a monster reunion of war veterans, both union and confederate at the Western Hotel, New York, on Saturday.

The Lane county bank of Eugene, Ore., temporarily suspended yesterday. It has plenty of property in sight to secure all depositors.

On Monday lightning killed a gunner named McDonald at Newmarket, Ont., near Queenstown, and a laborer at Midland, near Cork.

The total number of fourth-class passengers appointed yesterday was 137, of which 115 were to sail for London and 22 for New York.

The custom house commission of investigation held another meeting at the Barge of New York yesterday morning. The session was a secret one.

The will of the late David Booth, bequesting $100,000, less a few minor legacies, to his daughter, Mrs. Grossman, was filed for probate in New York yesterday.

Thomas P. Ryan, American ambassador in Great Britain, will proceed to Windsor castle on Friday next for the purpose of attending the coronation of the queen.

A. G. Butler, wholesale grocer of Columbus, O., assigned yesterday, to Charles B. O'Neil, Hamilton, $20,000, assets $20,000 to $30,000. They had been in business since 1854.

The City bank of Los Angeles, Cal., closed its doors yesterday morning. It is one of the smallest of the local banks, and is said to have been unable to meet all its liabilities.

The gas works at Warsaw, Ind., Monday night, Schuyler Wolford, the night man, was fatally burned and his assistant's leg was dislocated.

Mrs. J. T. Ford died yesterday at her home, one mile east of Richmond, Mo., from blood poisoning, caused by a rat bite. She was the mother of the notorious outlaw Bob and Charley Ford.

Frank Davis, a Chicago burglar, who has recently been operating extensively in New York city, yesterday announced in the latter city to twenty-four arrests and six months imprisonment.

Charles Hinton Carr of the Tennessee Banking Co. of Memphis, Ala., which failed last week, returned from New York yesterday, taking with him money enough to pay the depositors in full.

An engagement has been declared by the General Engineering Co. of Harvey, Ill., and the American Loan and Trust bank has been declared bankrupt.

Robert A. Cochran, of Illinois, has been appointed confidential clerk to the commission of Indian affairs.

Two deaths from sunstroke were reported in London Monday, and intense heat prevailed throughout the United Kingdom.

The Lin County Jail bank of Albany, Ore., capital $100,000, has failed, and Bank Examiner Jennings has been placed in charge.

There will be a monster reunion of war veterans, both union and confederate at the Western Hotel, New York, on Saturday.

The Lane county bank of Eugene, Ore., temporarily suspended yesterday. It has plenty of property in sight to secure all depositors.

On Monday lightning killed a gunner named McDonald at Newmarket, Ont., near Queenstown, and a laborer at Midland, near Cork.

The total number of fourth-class passengers appointed yesterday was 137, of which 115 were to sail for London and 22 for New York.

The custom house commission of investigation held another meeting at the Barge of New York yesterday morning. The session was a secret one.

RIOTING IN BRESLAU

An Angry Mob of Anarchists and Their Friends

DETERMINED TO WREAK VENGEANCE

Upon the Town and Its Protectors, Charged by Military and Police—Desperate Fighting, in Which the Rioters are Routed.

BERLIN, June 20.—The rioting that broke out at Breslau on Saturday night has been renewed. The anarchists and their friends and sympathizers who opposed injury or arrest determined to wreak vengeance for the attack then made upon them by the police and soldiers. Last night a large mob, made up of the very worst elements of the town, started out from the low beer gardens frequented by anarchists and loafers, and proceeded to attempt to loot some of the shops in that part of the city. The proprietors of these shops, started in time to prevent the mob from carrying out their designs. A desperate fight followed, the mob paying not the slightest attention to the orders of the police and soldiers to disperse.

The rioters used any weapon that came handy, and finally officers were charged for the police and soldiers to fight and hold the mob back. The price of the rioters was broken up for a short time. Then the rioters gathered again and again the police and soldiers charged upon them. This was repeated several times, but finally the mob was driven off the streets. Many of the rioters were more or less seriously wounded, and some of the policemen and soldiers were also injured by stones or clubs. Stringent measures have been taken to prevent a repetition of the rioting.

Appealing to a Poor Source for Mercy. LONDON, June 21.—The Daily News says that the discovery has been made that telegrams have been sent to the sultan of Turkey imploring that clemency be shown to the seven Armenians who were a few days ago sentenced at Angora to suffer the death penalty for their part in the riotous rioting at Constantinople. The paper states that the testimony of witnesses is alleged to have been purchased by the government officials conducting the trials of the accused men.

There is much indignation among the foreign residents of Constantinople at the apathy of the American legation in London in connection with the trial of the British consul at Angora. It is believed that the condemned men will be shot or poisoned, unless the powers be so moved by the appeals of the embassies to conduct them to Constantinople.

A Revolutionary Outbreak in Barcelona. LONDON, June 21.—A dispatch from Madrid says that a revolutionary outbreak has broken out in Barcelona. Details are lacking.

Anarchists Repay Discharge with Dynamite. WASHINGTON, June 21.—An attempt was made yesterday at Los Angeles, five miles south of this city, to destroy the residence of Julius Kruttschnitt, a well-known manufacturer of that place. It appears that some time ago Kruttschnitt discharged a number of his employees, among whom were several anarchists. These anarchists, in the spirit of revenge for their discharge, determined to blow up Kruttschnitt's house with dynamite. Yesterday they threw a bomb close to his house and when the explosion occurred the residence was partly wrecked. None of the inmates were hurt, however. The authors of the outrage are known, and though they have thus far succeeded in escaping arrest it is believed that the police will soon have them in custody. The affair has caused great excitement in the town.

Wanted Satisfaction. New York, June 21.—Capt. Anderson of the Viking ship, captained by Mayors, Brooklyn, yesterday, to get satisfaction for the outrage of the treatment of the Viking crew by the Brooklyn police. Mayor Rogers treated Capt. Anderson very courteously and expressed regret that the affair had occurred, and said he would do his best to right the wrong as far as possible. The police commissioner will give the Norwegians a hearing this morning.

Arrested. CHICAGO, June 21.—The Chicago Dock Master yesterday morning to James Hibben, and the president of the company, John H. Menger, also assigned in favor of the same person. The attorney for the assignee states that the failure was due in a large measure to the insolvency of Schaffner & Co.'s bank. The assets are estimated at $50,000, while the liabilities will be considerably less.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

Firebugs and Toughs on the Iron Range. DULUTH, Minn., June 21.—A special to the Herald from its correspondent at Duluth, Minn., says that the iron range on the Iron Range has been raging in this vicinity for the past several days; have about burned out and everyone is greatly relieved.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Several forest fires have occurred within a few miles of Berlin.

The People's bank of Minneapolis, Minn., has suspended payment.

The Kansas state banking commission has ordered the Bank of Pittsburg closed.

Mrs. Cleveland and Baby Ruth left Washington yesterday for Buzzard's Bay, Mass.

The Spanish curule weighed anchor at Montreal last night for a direct run to Chicago.

Robert A. Cochran, of Illinois, has been appointed confidential clerk to the commission of Indian affairs.

Two deaths from sunstroke were reported in London Monday, and intense heat prevailed throughout the United Kingdom.

The Lin County Jail bank of Albany, Ore., capital $100,000, has failed, and Bank Examiner Jennings has been placed in charge.

There will be a monster reunion of war veterans, both union and confederate at the Western Hotel, New York, on Saturday.

The Lane county bank of Eugene, Ore., temporarily suspended yesterday. It has plenty of property in sight to secure all depositors.

On Monday lightning killed a gunner named McDonald at Newmarket, Ont., near Queenstown, and a laborer at Midland, near Cork.

